80,000 Tobacco Growers

Enthusiasm of the organized tobacco farmers has increased with every delivery day at the Association's delivery points in South Carolina.

In spite of heavy rains throughout the week, members of the Association delivered between three and four million pounds of the Bright Leaf to the Cooperative Warehouses in the South Carolina belt during the first week of marketing.

So eager are the Association members to carry their tobacco to the Cooperative warehouses that another day has been added to the weekly schedule of deliveries.

The success of cooperative marketing at its first trial in South Carolina, and last week's powerful drive through East ern North Carolina have brought in another regiment of new members to the cooperative ranks. Twelve hundred new contracts reached Raleigh headquarters last week and pushed the Association across its goal of an 80,000 membership in the three states.

In spite of this fact, America's biggest Cooperative will continue to welcome tobacco growers in Virginia and Western North Carolina until the markets of the old belt open.

A great mass meeting of tobacco farmers in Durham, with Oliver J. Sands, general manager of the Association as principle speaker, will begin the final campaign in West North Carolina August 19th.

Tobacco of Wife or Child

There has been a lot of talk about members of the Cooperative Association dissatisfied and selling their tobacco on the open warehouse floors, the auction system way, dodging their contract obligations by claiming the tobacco belongs to their wives or children, and selling in wife's or child's name. The following are the words of M. O. Wilson, secretary of the Cooperative:

"Any tobacco sold other than through the growers' own sales agency is sold in competition with the member growers' to bacco. There is no reason why the tobacco sold by the wives and children of our members should be sold other than through the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, and each member will be expected and required to deliver the tobacco grown by his wife and children to the point which he has chosen as his delivery point."

This therefore settles that question once for all time. "Each member will be expected and required to deliver the tobacco grown by his wife and children" to the Cooperative just as his own.

Of course practically every farmer who signed up is going to remain loyal to the organization, but we warn those few weakkneed ones who are trying to dodge their contract and find a way to deliver their tobacco to the open auction warehouses that they are treading on dangerous ground and unless they live up to their contract may involve themselves in litigation, court costs and penalties that will be almost ruinous. This is inevitable for if the contract cannot be enforced then the organization can be of no good to the farmers.

U. S. Veterans' Bureau Sub District Office Changes Location

The U. S. Veterans' Bureau Sub-District Office which has been located in Chamber of Commerce Building at Richmond, Virginia, has changed its location to the third floor of the law building, 8th and Main Streets, formerly the old Stump Hotel Building. Mr. J. G. Mathis has recently been appointed as sub district manager of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau office in Richmond, to succeed Mr. Branch Johnson, who resigned to enter the practice of law in Richmond.

Mr. Mathis states that it is the desire of the Bureau to be of all service possible to disabled ex soldiers in Virginia and he requests that men who have claims to file against the Bureau for disability received in the service, either write to the Sub-District Office at Richmond, Virginia, or call at the office corner of 8th & Main Streets, third floor.

Mr. Mathis states upon authority of the chief of compensation and claims division of the Veterans' Bureau, 4th District, that for the present at least, the fact that a claimant does not apply for a Certificate of Injury prior to August 9th, 1922, does not preclude him from filing claim for compensation, since according to the provisions of Section 309 of the Act, a claimant is allowed five years from date of discharge within which time he may file a claim.

He expressly invites the assistance of the American Legion, the Red Cross and other civic organizations to assist in the work of filing the claims for disabled men in this territory.

Buckingham

A trip along the part of the new State Highway leading to Farmville from this place brings one near to the historic Willis Mountain where many improvements have been and are being made. In company with Mr Robert Glover Robertson I traveled parts of three counties winding up at Prospect, Va., where I found a meeting in progress at the Presbyterian church in which the people seemed deeply interested, the service on Friday night was based on the words of Pilate when he said "What I have written I have written." With a pleasing flow of language the speaker held up to our notice that what we have done we have done and emphasized the fact that we should be careful to do the right thing because we could not change. The Presbyterian church at Prospect is small, but I was struck with the air of refinement so apparent in the people gathered there, I was also impressed with the fact that so few of the ladies indulged in the mistaken idea so prevalent in some other places of economising in cloth by having their dresses unreasonably short. I saw one girl on the street of a neighboring town whose clothes were so short that one could hardly refrain from giving rent to his feelings in some such way as "Fain O' Shanter" did when he saw the witch wearing a "Cutty Shark".

The agent of an insurance company has been in Buckingham soliciting the taking of insurance by farmers on their standing crops. For one to go through the belt visited by the hail storm is heart rendering.

Mr. R. G Robertson has traveled through parts of Buckingham, Fluvanna and other counties in interest of the Lynchburg tobacco warehouse and his son who accompanied him on his trip was advertising the Lynchburg fair.

Mr. Thomas B. Hall was doing some traveling in the interest of the Dark Tobacco Association.

Mrs. P. P. Glover has just returned from a pleasure trip to St. Paul, North Carolina, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McArthur.

Miss Marian Forbes has been a guest at the Pearson hotel here.

Miss Fannie Haskins of this place expects to teach in Appomattox county as principal of the Liberty Chapel school which is near Gladstone.

Mr. Plummer F. Jones has the agency of the Ford Company at New Canton, and will conduct a garage and repair shop in connection with the sales department.

The big picnic here on the 17th and the tabernacle meeting to begin on the 18th should give us news for next week.

Mr John A. Twyman had a force of hands cleaning off the grounds where the "Last Lee Camp" monument is to be erected.

The County School Board and the Board of Supervisors met here on the 1st Monday. The County School Board as at present constituted will only meet one more time. The new County Board will meet here on the 1st Monday in September the 4th, and organize. There are several candidates for the position as clerk of the new board.

The cutting of tobacco has begun and never in the history of the crop have people been more alive to the fact that it should be properly cured and handled.

A no report card was sent to the bureau of vital statistics for the month of July and that means that for my district no deaths and no births were reported.

One great source of revenue has been cut off from Buckingham temporarily when the strike is in operation and keeping the colored miners from going to W. Va.

One dealer shipped a carload of wheat that he paid $1 10 a bushel for; and now he is shipping a car that he paid $1 05 for.

Peaches are selling at from 50c to $2 a bushel according to locality and quality.

GOV'T OPERATION OUT OF POLITICS

Party Leaders Convinced by Results of National Canvass of Editors.

VINDICATES FORMER POLL.

Overwhelming Veto Like That of Year Before From Both Sides of Political Fence.

Washington.—Inner circles of both political parties here are greatly interested in the results of a national poll on the question of government operation among over 5,000 newspaper editors throughout the country. With 86 per cent of these editors, regardless of political faith, giving it as their impartial opinion that the public is more than ever opposed to the government going into business in competition with its citizens, observers here see little chance that either political party will find it a profitable campaign issue.

In the opinion of party leaders this sort of a canvass among newspaper editors is the best possible index of public opinion. They recall a similar questionnaire sent out a year ago in connection with the proposition that the government take over the railroads permanently. Replies at that time from approximately the same number of editors showed 83 per cent against the principle of government operation. They recall also that within ten days from publication of the result of the former questionnaire the sentiment for return of the railroads to their owners had definitely crystallized.

Comparison of present results in detail with those of a year ago convinces the political student not only that these editors have been accurate in their judgment, but that party considerations played no part in forming it. From Democratic and supposedly radical Texas, for example, the present questionnaire brought replies from editors of 244 papers, only three of which are Republican. Yet the percentage against government operation was 92, which is exactly the same as that given by 200 editors from Republican Michigan, among whom were representatives of only three Democratic papers. Other states that pair percentages significantly are Massachusetts and Nevada, with 100; Connecticut and South Carolina, with 97; Maine and West Virginia, with 96; Kentucky and New York, with 91; Missouri and Pennsylvania, with 89; Ohio and Oklahoma, with 87.

The result of the present poll as to government operation in each state are graphically shown by the following chart:

Ostrich Eggs as Food.

Mr. Gallican, diet expert, who has been experimenting with ostrich eggs supplied by the New York zoological gardens, declares that the food value of the ostrich egg is about the same as that of the domestic hen's egg. The flavor is identical and, although the ostrich eggs contain less protein than meat, they have more fat and a fair amount of phosphorus and iron. One egg will make an omelet sufficient for 30 persons.—The Argonaut.

"Built Me Up"

"I USED Cardui for years and it did me more good than any medicine I ever used," writes Mrs. M. C. Ragsdale, of Fort Towson, Okla. "I used to suffer with womanly trouble that weakened me until I was a mere shadow, nervous, and could not sleep. I did not feel like I could live.

"It seemed that nothing helped me till I heard of Cardui and began to use it. It strengthened me and, as 'twas recommended to do, it regulated and built me up till I was like another woman."

If you are weak, run-down and feel that you need a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic, the tonic about which you have always heard, the tonic that helps weak women regain their strength.

Cardui acts on the womanly system and helps relieve pain and discomfort due to female ailments.

Try Cardui, today, for your trouble.

THE GREATEST FARMER IN THE WORLD

One-fourth of the wheat we grow is the result of the researches of the Government. After years of untiring experiment and investigation, the Government, through the Department of Agriculture, was enabled to introduce into this country the remarkable Durum wheat through which our production has been increased fully twenty-five per cent. This has been only one of many surprising but little-known accomplishments of the Government, which are covered in the interesting series of stories for which we have the exclusive right of distribution in this community.
